

Instructions for Students & Staff based On Campus

WHAT IS ATHENS?

- Athens is a service the Library purchases to give users one username and password for off-campus access most of our electronic resources.
- It allows you to access our databases and journals on any computer with internet access.
- Access is limited to current Whitireia staff and students.
- If you would like to use Athens read this brochure, or check out our website, or go to the library information desk.
- Why the name Athens? Think Athens and think knowledge—Athens the city is the cradle of one of the world's greatest civilizations. The name Athens comes from the goddess Athena, the goddess of wisdom and knowledge.

WHAT DATABASES ARE AVAILABLE THROUGH ATHENS?

Britannica
Ebsco
Gale
JSTOR : Arts Archive
Oxford Art Online, Oxford Music Online
Oxford English Dictionary
Proquest
Pubmed Whitireia
Science Direct

1. REGISTERING WITH ATHENS

Registration is for the current year, or duration of your Whitireia course only.

You must register for each year of your study or work at Whitireia.

Students & staff doing distance courses: please contact the library.

How do I register for Athens?

- On Campus Only
First, log on to a computer on any of our Whitireia campuses, then complete the online self-registration form on the library website.
You will need an email account, your Whitireia ID number, and the finishing date of your course (printed on student ID card). After registration, login details will be automatically emailed.
- Orientation and Class Sessions
Ask a librarian about Athens and the library research databases.

2. LOGGING IN TO ATHENS

Once I've registered, where do I go to log in?

There are 2 ways to log in to Athens:

Go to MyAthens login page

1. MyAthens or web site: <http://www.athensams.net/myathens>
2. Enter your Athens username and password

MyAthens. Login to Athens

Username:
Password:

OR

Go to Database

- Links to databases are on the library website. Click on the database name. When prompted enter your Athens login.
- Athens can be recognised by its logo on the database page or a link on the page labelled Athens. For example, click Athens:

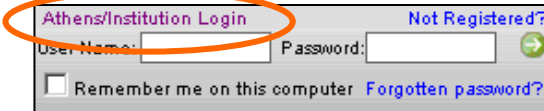

ProQuest login

Account Name:
Password:
Select Language: English

Athens login

ScienceDirect:

Athens/Institution Login Not Registered?

User Name: Password:

Remember me on this computer Forgotten password?

3. HELP

What is my Athens username?

Your Athens username is unique to you and for your individual use only. Once registered, your username will be wcp followed by first initial, last name, 001 e.g. wcpflastname001

What resources are not part of Athens?

NZ and Australian resources are not part of Athens – access details are listed on the MyAthens homepage along with logins and passwords to some journals.

Why can't I log in, even though I have registered?

Make sure that you are entering your username and password correctly. Athens logins are case sensitive, so check that the caps lock key is not on.

How do I change my Athens password once my account is set up?

Log into MyAthens, click on the tab "My Account", and Change Password.

What should I do if I forget my Athens login details?

Library staff will be able to find your username and reset your password. You will be asked to supply a valid ID to obtain these details.

Where do I go for help?

E-mail: library@whitireia.ac.nz

Library information desk. Or Athens administrator: link on Athens webpage.